Once again rumors of dissatisfaction at the fire house have been rife in the community despite efforts of the volunteer firemen and the city council to maintain a dignified silence about a matter which, both considered, concerned them only.

At a meeting of the volunteer firemen last week, they voted to send a letter to Councilman Eben Whittlesey who is the city's fire commissioner. The volunteers agreed that no press releases would be given concerning their action.

The letter expressed dissatisfaction with the fact that the council hired a new fire chief without the volunteers being allowed to meet with the top applicants. They understood they had been promised this privilege by Mayor Herbert Blanks.

Despite the volunteers' desire to keep their communication to the council private, the fact that the letter had been sent leaked out and was reported in the daily press.

This story also intimated that a secret meeting of the council had been called to consider the letter. Mr. Whittlesey says this was not so. The meeting was held to discuss personnel problems.

At the invitation of the volunteer firemen, John R. Baker, Fire Chief of Borrego Springs in San Diego County, who will become Carmel's fire chief on October 8, attended a meeting of the volunteer firemen last night.

This morning, Lee McGuckin, chairman of volunteers, said that they still had no formal statement to make. However, the volunteers now want the people of Carmel to know what happened last week. They also want Carmel citizens to know that they are "ready to forget the past and go forward from last night on."

According to Mr. Whittlesey, any dissatisfaction among the volunteers apparently was caused by a misunderstanding. He and Mayor Herbert Blanks were unaware, he says, that the procedure of selecting the new fire chief was not exactly what the volunteer firemen desired.

"We made every effort to have the volunteers informed of every step in the selection process. They were given an opportunity to see the written examination, go over the results of these tests, also given opportunities to meet a number of the applicants informally at the fire house. Official representatives of the volunteers were present all during the oral exam-(Continued on Page Eighteen)

How do I love thee? Let me count The ways, the days which now amount To far too few. We met last night Yet circumstance must expedite Our marriage, lest some other guy Gloms on to you, to satisfy His urgent need for wife and kids The same as mine. Don't grease the skids.

I love thee with a passion born
Of news that I perceived one morn;
And suddenly I got the word
That married men might be deferred.
So love, sweet love, tet's speed today
To plight our troth out Reno way.

Water District Bonds Threat To Taxpayers, John L. Coates Says

Citing the increase in taxes paid by Monterey Peninsula property owners over the last ten years—totaling a whopping 145%—John S. Coates of Carmel Woods, executive secretary of the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association, pictured above, urges voters to reject the newest threat of tax increase in the proposed takeover of the investor-owned water company by the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District.

This is the $17,500,000 water bond proposal of the district which will come before the voters on Tuesday and which will transfer ownership and control of the California Water and Telephone Company, now in its 83rd year, to a public agency which is tax exempt.

Mr. Coates cited to the Pine Cone this week, as one example of the increased tax load, the fact that over the next ten years, the water company will pay $250,000 in local taxes including school taxes. This burden would pass to individual taxpayers and would amount to about 13 cents per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation, or more than twice the increase in all property taxes of the current year.

"In addition to this," Mr. Coates said, "the water district has unlimited power to tax and spend. The statute governing this type of water district is one of the broadest ever enacted by the state legislature.

"Already, the directors of the water district have borrowed and spent $750,000 of the taxpayers' money without direct authoriza-

"Further than this, directors of the district could either raise rates or assess taxes if the water system should be mismanaged, or if their highly debatable feasibility study should not have been accurate in its estimate of income and expense. How can we expect a group of amateurs holding office through political machinery to operate a water system serving 25,000 or more homes on the Peninsula?" Mr. Coates asks.

Commenting on the assertion by the district that present company employees would be hired if the district takes over, he stated:

"They have yet to name one employee who has expressed willingness to work for this political agency. On the contrary, we know of several skilled employees who have expressed their unwillingness in no uncertain terms. And certainly, the top skills in finance and engineering now available to the company would be lost to the district.

Asking — why we should be forced to add to our taxes for so-called community ownership of the water system which is now being run with top efficiency — Mr. Coates cited the following tax increases in the past ten years in Monterey County: General county, 114%; cities, 122%; school districts, 175%; special districts, 115%; per capita, 63.5%.

Mr. Coates also commented on the cost of the bond issue of $17,500,000 which would be spread over a 35-year period. "This amounts to almost a million dollars a year," he said. "People don't always stop and think about this when considering a bond issue. The only amount printed on the ballot is the principal amount.

"Actually, the bond issue is for an amount closer to $32,000,000 including interest. It might also be interesting to know that under the bond proposal, no principal will be paid for the first five years, a little matter of almost $5,000,000 to provide the district with ample funds to cover mistakes."

Supervisors Act Next On Humble Oil Referendum

As of last night, enough signatures had been obtained to petition the Monterey County Board of Supervisors tomorrow for a referendum on the special permit granted on September 2 to Humble Oil and Refining Company for a refinery at Moss Landing.

City Attorney William Burleigh stated this morning that last night's count revealed that over 6,000 persons had signed petitions asking for a vote of the people on the refinery permit. He hoped that when all petitions were returned by noon today the desired goal of 7,000 signatures would be attained. He was desirous of getting this number because rejections of some signatures might reduce the total figure and his petition must have 5,300 valid signatures to meet requirements of state law.

The petition for a vote of the people on the oil refinery permit will be presented to the supervisors at 10 a.m. tomorrow by Mr. Burleigh. He asks all interested persons to attend the meeting of the supervisors in the county courthouse in Salinas.

Supervisors have the power to accept or reject the referendum petition. According to Mr. Burleigh, it is probable that they may reject it as County Counsel William Stoffers maintains that administrative action was taken by the supervisors in granting the permit.

The referendum petition is based on the premise that legislative action was taken. The Carmel city council directed City Attorney Burleigh to do research to discover whether initiative action on (Continued on Page Eighteen)

Planners Dislike New Carmel Views Subdivision Plans

Carmel planners saw no reason yesterday afternoon to change their original disapproval of Carmel Views subdivision.

A revised plan of the development north of Rancho Rio Vista was sent to the Carmel planning commission by the county planning commission for consideration. Except for noting that two access roads have now been provided, Carmel planners were still of the opinion that the new plans were not much improved. Too much greenbelt was still situated at the bottom of canyons, the reduction to 173 buildings sites still averaged out to less than one per acre and not enough consideration was given to slope, also road cuts and fills.

The new subdivision will be considered by county planners on Wednesday. Russell Galloway of Carmel first submitted his plans last November.

Planners set next Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. for a meeting of the joint committee of the planning and Sunset commissions and the city council to consider parking at the Sunset site.

A. R. Vasconcellos was given permission to add ten units to a store and motel complex at Junipero and Third providing he placed eight cars in a third story basement parking area, five aboveground with three-foot-wide land-scaping to screen the latter cars. He was not allowed a variance for building frontage in excess of 80 feet.

WATER DISTRICT BONDS

The Pine Cone recommends a NO vote Tuesday on the $17,500,000 revenue bond issue to permit the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District to purchase holdings of California Water and Telephone Company and the East Monterey Water Service.

The Pine Cone opposed formation of the water district in 1958, and has found no reason since to change this stand and advocate public ownership of the Peninsula's water system.

Mission Fields To Middle School Bus Service Approved

Some children unable to ride on school buses will be permitted to do so as the result of action taken by the board of education of the Carmel Unified School District last night.

Trustees amended their rules to allow youngsters from Mission Fields to be transported to Middle School because no protection for pedestrians is provided crossing Highway One from Rio Road.

They also decided that on other routes, when space is available, children up till now prevented from riding a school bus may be allowed to do so on a temporary basis. The board agreed, too, that Superintendent Medill Bair may make minor changes in bus routes to accommodate students provided that such changes do not entail additional expense or travelling greater distances.

A petition, signed by 105 Mission Fields residents, requested the bus transportation to Middle School. Trustees thought the request was valid considering unsafe walking conditions which prevail at the Highway One entrance to the Mission Fields area. However, should safe crossing conditions be developed at the Highway One-Rio Road intersection, the board retained the right to discontinue the transportation approved last night. Cost of this bus service will be $800 for the balance of this school year.

This transportation, however, will only permit fifth and sixth graders to ride the bus without courtesy passes. These passes, which must be signed by parents, will allow seventh and eighth graders to ride the bus to Middle School only when space is available. Eighth graders first, then seventh graders, will be removed, if the number of fifth and sixth graders is too great to allow space for the older children.

The courtesy pass-space available system will also allow children to ride buses on other routes.

Minor changes may re-route some (Continued on Page Fifteen)

It's Community Chest drive time again and a friend put in five hours on the phone recently trying to get volunteers. Some of the excuses were priceless. One lady's cat is pregnant and she's afraid to leave the house for fear the kittens will come while she's out and the mamma cat will have to do it all by herself. But mostly, when our friend reminds them they promised her last year they'd do it this year, they say, "Oh no, not me. You must be thinking of somebody else."

And it makes me think of something terrible I did years ago. In the phone book was a name so fantastic that I couldn't believe it was real. Impulsively, I picked up the phone and dialed the number. A lovely voice answered and, grabbing at the first straw of a pretext that floated by, I said, "Is this the Gizulda Leibriott Brimstone who went to Audubon School with me in 1932?" "No," she said sweetly. "Oh," I floundered, "I'm sorry. It must've been some other Gizulda Leibriott Brimstone."

Here's another verse from the planning commission's poet laureate, Chairwoman Dorothy von Meier:

Ever hear of "The Cobweb Curtain?" That's the name certain enterprising young people are giving to the keep-Carmel-as-it-is screen that oldtimers always throw up when some innovation or improvement is proposed. Guess who they have named "Spider?"

More eavesdroppings:

Two lady tourists at Jolly Roger were trying to decide whether to have another drink. "I guess I'd better not," said one, "I really ought to go and meet Joe at the motel." "I'd like to," said her companion, "but I'm afraid if I have another one, I'll go back and buy that painting."

I like the radio announcer's comment, in reporting high winds at the weather station atop Mount Tamalpais, that "small car warnings are up." Which is no joke if you've ever driven a VW across the Golden Gate Bridge when it's really blowing.

Necessarily listening for and thinking in English during the daily multitude of phone calls, a foreign tongue, especially when I'm a bit frantic on press day, comes across like something from outer space. So it took me several bewildered minutes last Thursday to shift gears and accept "Feliz Dia de Independencia" from the voice on the line. With the reminder, I later had a fine celebration for Mexico's Fourth of July. /

A toast to their future happiness is raised by David Tobiasen and his bride, the former Gwen Irving, whose marriage took place in Reno on August 1. The unheralded but not unexpected wedding was announced to David's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Tobiasen, when the young couple returned from Nevada.

A Double Celebration

Turning 92 is reason for anyone to celebrate, but when one is as independent and full of energy as Dell H. Harthorn, the birthday is a joyous occasion. Mr. Harthorn, whose memories of his youth are colorful and vivid, brought his family to Carmel in 1918 and during the years here designed and constructed over 21 houses as well as some business buildings.

On the evening preceding his September 14 birthday, his good friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John Zack, were co-hosts with Mrs. Susan Shaw at a festive party in his honor. Mr. Harthorn, in turn, joined in congratulating the Zacks on their wedding anniversary.

The vagaries of freighter departures permitting, Richard Hagadorn and the Bill O'Malleys embark this weekend for an extended tour around South America. On its last trip, the new Norwegian ship on which they will travel stopped at 35 ports on the fourmonths trip and is scheduled this run for a ten-day layover in Buenos Aires.

After devoting his energies to teaching at Carmel High School for 21 years, Mr. Hagadorn finds his retirement, begun at the close of the school year in June, poses no problem, but, rather, offers leisure to pursue his wide interests. The former art teacher, most naturally, plans to enjoy "doing" instead of instructing in this field and to follow his avocation of aviculture it is doubtful that many of his students knew that he raises rare and lovely birds. An early member of the high school faculty, Mr. Hagadorn originally taught several subjects to the then small student body, later specializing in

Mr. Hagadorn will leave the ship approximately mid-way on its journey to travel in the Amazon Basin, beginning at Belem and going at least as far up-river as Manaus, observing tropical birds and perhaps sketching. If possible, he will continue to Quito, Ecuador, returning by way of Mexico, where he particularly wants to visit the new museum of anthropology in the capital:

The O'Malleys will remain with the ship for its return by way of the Panama Canal.

Mission Fields To Middle School Bus Service Approved

The board approved an instructional swimming program for 125 fifth and sixth grade Tularcitos School pupils this Fall at a cost of $300. The resignation of William G. Wakefield, Carmel High physical education instructor and director of recreation for the district until this position was abolished, was accepted as of October 1. He has purchased a business in San Jose and wished a release from his teaching contract. This would not be granted under normal circumstances, the board indicated, but in Mr. Wakefield's case his outstanding service to the district and unusual circumstances warranted his release, they agreed.

Superintendent Bair asked the board to think about requiring medical examinations for all children attending schools in the district and establishment of an "opportunities unlimited class" at Middle School. Any other class in the school would be available to the youngster in the special class thus allowing more concentration in any subject. The teacher of this class would act, primarily, in a counseling capacity and send pupils to classes where they would work best for indefinite periods.

Marjorie Bennett

Mrs. Marjorie Bennett of Pebble Beach was pronounced dead on a r r i v a l at Community Hospital yesterday morning following an apparent heart attack which she suffered while playing golf at the Monterey Peninsula Club.

Born in Palo Alto April 17, 1921, she was the wife of Richard Bennett, former assistant to the president of Del Monte Properties and now a member of Richard Catlin Associates of Carmel.

For a number of years Mrs. Bennett ran the Northern California Junior Girls Tournament at Del Monte as well as other local and state golf tournaments and was highly regarded for her work with junior golfers. She was a member of the Children's Home Society, the board of directors of the Carmel Republican Women, and president of the local chapter of the University of California Alumni Association.

An active participant in community activities, she was also an artist whose work merited its exhibition in several galleries.

In addition to her husband, she leaves two daughters, Leslie and Gwen; two sons, Lane and Brian; and her father, Leslie Miller of Louisville, Kenutcky. She was the granddaughter of the late Mrs. Josephine Loomis, an early Carmel resident.

Memorial services for Mrs. Bennett will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Mission Mortuary.

Friends wishingto make memorial contributions may do so to the Marjorie Bennett Memorial Scholarship Foreign Studies.

Art News....

Winners in the competitive Water Color Show at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History were announced at the show's preview on Tuesday night. Awards went to Peninsula artists as follows: First, Gerald Wasserman; second, Fred Klepich; third, Margaret W. Huddy.

George Post of San Francisco, nationally acclaimed watercolorist, judged the entries.

November 9 has been set by the directors of the Carmel Art Association as the date for judging paintings and sculpture by artists applying for active membership in the association.

Artists may secure application blanks and full information from the curator at the Carmel Art Association gallery on Dolores Street before that date.

Peninsula Chapter of the American Federation of Arts held its first Christmas Creations preview and sale. Since that time, this event has grown into one of the highlights of the Christmas season. Artists—professional and amateur — create ornaments and arrangements that make Christmas decorating a delight. And this year is no exception. Plans have been underway since early summer for the fifth AFA Christmas Creations party.

Mrs. Robert J. Hill of Pebble Beach is the general chairman for this year's event. At a morning coffee held last week at the home of Mrs. Jennison Heaton on Crespi Lane in Pebble Beach, she announced the names for her committee chairmen. Mrs. Heaton has been named honorary chairman; Mrs. William Arnold is in charge of acquisitions; Miss Barbara Burdick, publicity; Mrs. J. Arch Butts Jr., hostesses: Mrs. Dale Junta. telephone committee; Mrs. Barbara Tripp, decorations; and Mrs. J. Ritchie Dunn and Mrs. Arthur W. Barter Jr., will be in charge of Proceeds from the sale of the dazzling creations go toward establishing a creative arts center for the Peninsula with a permanent museum and gallery for the enjoyment of visitors and residents. The AFA hopes to have hundreds of items at this year's sale.

A champagne preview will be held on December 7 from 6-8 p.m. at the Mark Thomas Inn. On December 8 the public will be invited to the sale from 10 a.m.-9 p.m. Anyone wishing to create something for the AFA's pre-Christmas event, may call the AFA headquarters (624-2918).

Mrs. Hill, the chairman, moved to the Peninsula a year ago from Wichita, Kansas, where she was active in the Wichita Museum of Art.

The Zantman Gallery regretfully announced that the one-man show by Robert Clark, scheduled for September, had to be postponed. The artist's egg temperas have sold in recent months as fast as he could conceive and execute them. In addition, the gigantic 45 by 75 feet painting he was commissioned to do for Forest Lawn, "The Resurrection," took longer than he anticipated to complete. In appreciation of this work, Robert Clark will be made a Fellow of the American Institute of Fine Arts this month.

New artists who have arranged to exhibit their work at the Zantman Gallery are Louise Marianetti, Darwin Musselman and Noel Dagget, also Charles Levier of France.

Paintings and designs by Rick Beck-Meyer will be shown at the Coast Gallery beside Highway One at Big Sur through October 7.

One hundred and forty examples of 19th and 20th century painting and sculpture, from the private collections of San Francisco Bay area residents, will be exhibited at the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park through October 17.

The twentieth annual San Juan Bautista Art Show will open on September 25 and continue through October 4 in the theatre of the Brass Lantern Restaurant under the sponsorship of the San Juan chamber of commerce. Judges of work entered in this show will be Nimfa Valvo and Gordon Woods of San Francisco and Al Parker of Carmel Valley.

On display throughout this month at the Dooley Gallery are French and Czechoslovakian etchings, some in color, from the collection of the late New York artist R. V. Smutney.

Adventure Abroad

An exodus of college-age Carmelites, most of them with hard earned dollars as legal tender, has been taking place within the past two weeks. Members of the group, traveling by plane, train and auto to the East Coast, rendezvoused in New York last Friday for their flight to Glasgow that evening.

In New York were Scott Forbes, Pat Crane, Donna Seaver, Mary Wermuth and Evelyn Jenkins. Pat Campbell, Mike Bein and Roger Diefendorf began their trip from Monterey airport the same day.

After sightseeing in Edinburgh, they planned to proceed to London, where a pleasant surprise, arranged ahead by the Fred Diefendorfs, awaited them. There, too, the girls met George Dear of Carmel, who has been in Surrey for several weeks and whose brother lives in London. Mr. Dear had promised to drive them about the countryside and see that they had a good time in the English capital. From that point, the groups of young men and young ladies will go their separate ways while traveling in Europe, although they plan to meet in several cities and to get together for Christmas in Austria.

Using youth hostels wherever possible and whatever transportation is available, the young people hope to stretch their stay on the continent to at least three months.

Multiple Activities

In San Francisco last week to attend a meeting of the Western Area Advisory Council of the American Red Cross was Helen

She has been invited by national head-quarters to participate as a member of the council, made up of 15 members chosen from 11 western states, until 1968. Miss Heavey is also the vice-chairman of the Four-County Red Cross Blood Center and chairman of finance for that group.

Commendation Received

Major Leonard E. Carter of the Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command, with headquarters at Fort Ord, has received a second oak leaf cluster to his Army Commendation Medal. Colonel Vernon G. Gilbert, Deputy Commander of CDCEC, made the award to Major Carter, who was particularly lauded for his introduction of a new and very successful training program.

In early October, the officer and his wife, Phyllis, and their three children will leave for Orleans, France, where he will be assigned as G3 with Headquarters, Communications Zone. Major Carter is the son of Colonel Leonard F. Carter of Pebble Beach.

Gary Thompson In Navy

Gary Thompson, a June graduate of Carmel High School, is now Seaman Recruit Thompson (USN), having begun basic training at the U.S. Naval Training Center at San Diego. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Thompson of Carmel.

To Study In London

As reported last week, Bob Kahn faced a choice of returning to Reed College, accepting a scholarship to the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York or an invitation to study at the London Drama Centre. The promising young actor made his decision last weekend and on Monday, with the good wishes of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Kahn, boarded a plane bound for England, where he will undergo intensive training at the centre.

Pam Parker To Wed

On October 23, Pamela Sloan Parker will be married in Toronto, Canada, to Dr. Robert N. Fowler of that city.

Pam, a 1959 Carmel High School graduate, is the daughter of Mrs. Paul Chedester of Carmel Highlands and Howard S. Parker of Phoenix, Arizona. Following two years at Monterey Peninsula College, she attended American Airlines Stewardess College and is now employed by that company's Toronto office. She is the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bedford of Carmel.

Her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bertram Fowler of Toronto, is a graduate of the University of Toronto and University of Toronto Medical School. He is an associate of Weston Clinic and Humber Hospital in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Chedester will travel to Toronto for Pamela's wedding.

Kaleidoscope Tour

"We touched so many different countries we didn't even have time to get money changed," reports Hazel McClellan who returned Sunday after a European bus tour of about three weeks. She told of one passenger who gave up trying to figure the exchange and simply handed over her handbag for the extraction of payment as necessary.

Miss McClellan jetted to London, beginning her tour in Belgium. She traveled into Germany, Switzerland, Austria (where she had time to see an opera and visit the famous Spanish Riding School), even to Italy, before circling back to Paris. The schedule allowed two days in Holland before returning to London for the flight home.

Assigned To Viet Nam

Miss Dorothy Welker of Carmel, field director for the Red Cross at Fort Ord, has received orders assigning her to Viet Nam and will leave the Peninsula in the near future. Miss Welker will take with her the good wishes of the Carmel chapter volunteers who have worked with her.

Return To Paris

Family members and countless friends have bid farewell to Mrs. Jean Saint-Fort Paillard (Peggy Doud) and her husband who, after three weeks as guests at Del Monte Lodge, are returning to Paris. Mr. Paillard, dressage expert, was here to serve as a judge at the Three Day Equestrian Event in Pebble each. The couple was widely entertained during their visit.

High Sales Record

Gordon W. Lundeen of Carmel Highlands has achieved the $3 million mark already this year in the amount of life and health insurance protection and annuity coverage that he has placed for his clients in this area, according to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

A consistent sales leader with the company, Mr. Lundeen has surpassed the $1 million mark each year since 1955. He is currently president of the Metropolitan Millionaires Club.

A Double Celebration

Turning 92 is reason for anyone to celebrate, but when one is as independent and full of energy as Dell H. Harthorn, the birthday is a joyous occasion. Mr. Harthorn, whose memories of his youth are colorful and vivid, brought his family to Carmel in 1918 and during the years here designed and constructed over 21 houses as well as some business buildings.

On the evening preceding his September 14 birthday, his good friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John Zack, were co-hosts with Mrs. Susan Shaw at a festive party in his honor. Mr. Harthorn, in turn, joined in congratulating the Zacks on their wedding anniversary.

South America Cruise

The vagaries of freighter departures permitting, Richard Hagadorn and the Bill O'Malleys embark this weekend for an extended tour around South America. On its last trip, the new Norwegian ship on which they will travel stopped at 35 ports on the fourmonths trip and is scheduled this run for a ten-day layover in Buen-

After devoting his energies to teaching at Carmel High School for 21 years, Mr. Hagadorn finds his retirement, begun at the close of the school year in June, poses no problem, but, rather, offers leisure to pursue his wide interests. The former art teacher, most naturally, plans to enjoy "doing" instead of instructing in this field and to follow his avocation of aviculture-it is doubtful that many of his students knew that he raises rare and lovely birds. An early member of the high school faculty, Mr. Hagadorn originally taught several subjects to the then small student body, later specializing in art.

Mr. Hagadorn will leave the ship approximately mid-way on its journey to travel in the Amazon Basin, beginning at Belem and going at least as far up-river as Manaus, observing tropical birds and perhaps sketching. If possible, he will continue to Quito, Ecuador, returning by way of Mexico, where he particularly wants to visit the new museum of anthropology in the capital:

The O'Malleys will remain with the ship for its return by way of the Panama Canal.

On Way To Egypt

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph F. Zang of Carmel Point are sailing westward from San Francisco on the President Monroe and will call at ports in several countries before arriving at their destination which is Alexandria, Egypt.

Flying To Italy

Two planeloads of Stanford students leave Saturday from San Francisco with passengers bound for one of the university's five study centers in Europe. Among the 88 young men and women whose destination is the Stanfordin-Italy campus, Villa San Paolo outside Florence, will be two from Carmel, Louise Ann LaMothe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel LaMothe, and Jane Aldwell Martin the daughter of Mrs. Eileer Martin.

Recent Newcomers

Robin Scott Ferris is the new son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ferris of Mission Fields. The baby was born at Community Hospital on September 3.

Only recently reported was the birth of a son, Robert Alan, to Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Joseph A. Perkins of Carmel. Born on August 6, the baby is the brother of Pamela and Joseph. Lieutenant Commander Perkins is a U.S. Naval Postgraduate School student.

Adventure Abroad

An exodus of college-age Carmelites, most of them with hard earned dollars as legal tender, has been taking place within the past two weeks. Members of the group, traveling by plane, train and auto to the East Coast, rendezvoused in New York last Friday for their flight to Glasgow that evening.

In New York were Scott Forbes, Pat Crane, Donna Seaver, Mary Wermuth and Evelyn Jenkins. Pat Campbell, Mike Bein and Roger Diefendorf began their trip from Monterey airport the same day.

After sightseeing in Edinburgh, they planned to proceed to London, where a pleasant surprise, arranged ahead by the Fred Diefendorfs, awaited them. There, too, the girls met George Dear of Carmel, who has been in Surrey for several weeks and whose brother lives in London. Mr. Dear had promised to drive them about the countryside and see that they had a good time in the English capital. From that point, the groups of young men and young ladies will go their separate ways while traveling in Europe, although they plan to meet in several cities and to get together for Christmas in Austria.

Using youth hostels wherever possible and whatever transportation is available, the young people hope to stretch their stay on the continent to at least three months.

Commendation Received

Major Leonard E. Carter of the Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command, with headquarters at Fort Ord, has received a second oak leaf cluster to his Army Commendation Medal. Colonel Vernon G. Gilbert, Deputy Commander of CDCEC, made the award to Major Carter, who was particularly lauded for his introduction of a new and very successful training program.

In early October, the officer and his wife, Phyllis, and their three children will leave for Orleans, France, where he will be assigned as G3 with Headquarters, Communications Zone. Major Carter is the son of Colonel Leonard F. Carter of Pebble Beach.

Gary Thompson, a June graduate of Carmel High School, is now Seaman Recruit Thompson (USN), having begun basic training at the U.S. Naval Training Center at San Diego. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Thompson of Carmel.

To Study In London

As reported last week, Bob Kahn faced a choice of returning to Reed College, accepting a scholarship to the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York or an invitation to study at the London Drama Centre. The promising young actor made his decision last weekend and on Monday, with the good wishes of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Kahn, boarded a plane bound for England, where he will undergo intensive training at the centre.

Pam Parker To Wed

On October 23, Pamela Sloan Parker will be married in Toronto, Canada, to Dr. Robert N. Fowler of that city.

Pam, a 1959 Carmel High School graduate, is the daughter of Mrs. Paul Chedester of Carmel Highlands and Howard S. Parker of Phoenix, Arizona. Following two years at Monterey Peninsula College, she attended American Airlines Stewardess College and is now employed by that company's Toronto office. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bedford of Carmel.

Her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bertram Fowler of Toronto, is a graduate of the University of Toronto and University of Toronto Medical School. He is an associate of Weston Clinic and Humber Hospital in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Chedester will travel to Toronto for Pamela's wedding.

Kaleidoscope Tour

"We touched so many different countries we didn't even have time to get money changed," reports Hazel McClellan who returned Sunday after a European bus tour of about three weeks. She told of one passenger who gave up trying to figure the exchange and simply handed over her handbag for the extraction of payment as necessary.

Miss McClellan jetted to London, beginning her tour in Belgium. She traveled into Germany, Switzerland, Austria (where she had time to see an opera and visit the famous Spanish Riding School), even to Italy, before circling back to Paris. The schedule allowed two days in Holland before returning to London for the flight home.

Assigned To Viet Nam

Miss Dorothy Welker of Carmel, field director for the Red Cross at Fort Ord, has received orders assigning her to Viet Nam and will leave the Peninsula in the near future. Miss Welker will take with her the good wishes of the Carmel chapter volunteers who have worked with her.

Return To Paris

Family members and countless friends have bid farewell to Mrs. Jean Saint-Fort Paillard (Peggy Doud) and her husband who, after three weeks as guests at Del Monte Lodge, are returning to Paris. Mr. Paillard, dressage expert, was here to serve as a judge at the Three Day Equestrian Event in Pebble each. The couple was widely entertained during their visit.

Final Price Of Water Company May Require Long Legal Battle Officer Of Taxpayers Group Says

Indications of a long legal battle over the final price which the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District would have to pay for properties of one local company, if the $17,500,000 water bond issue is approved at the special election, September 28, were cited today by John S. Coates, executive secretary of the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association which opposes the bond issue.

Mr. Coates quoted from a letter received by D. L. Harris of Monterey from William W. Dunlop, secretary of the Public Utilities Commission, State of California, in answer to certain questions raised by Mr. Harris concerning the bond issue.

"Both district and water company agreed to abide by the ruling of the commission with regard to the value of the system as of September 2, 1959, amounting to $13,270,000," Mr. Coates said.

(The system includes holdings of the California Water and Telephone Company and the East Monterey Water Service).

"However, the water company, in its analysis of the financial study made by the district's consultants, contends that the cost of additions and betterments to the water system would be about $800,000 more than the consultants had figured.

"As this item of improvements and betterments from September 2, 1959, until January 1, 1966 is added along with other cost items, to the basic price of $13,270,000—thus making up the total bond issue of $17,500,000—if there is any increase in the item as a result of further legal action before the commission, the bond issue could be increased over the $17,500,000 proposed.

'The water company maintains that, with the increase in the final adjudicated cost of improvements and with other adjustments for errors on the part of the financial consultants, the bond issue would be $19,500,000 instead of the $17,-500,000 proposed for voter approv-

In regard to this point, Mr. Harris asked,

"Does the agency condemning these properties have to pay for additions?"

The commission's reply was:
"Yes, if the owner formally requests the commission to exercise its power under Sections 1417 and 1418, the commission must make findings fixing the extent that the initial sum shall be increased due to additions or betterments. The petitioner may also formally request the commission to decrease its finding for the loss or destruction, depreciation and deterioration of the properties subsequent to the date of filing of the original petitions.

Another question asked by Mr. Harris was:

"Has the Public Utilities Commission made any determination as to the value of these additions, and, if they have not, does this require further hearings with testimony by the parties involved?"

The commission's reply was:
"The commission has not been petitioned by the parties to fix just compensation for any additions. Should petitions be filed, the commission is required to hold further hearings with testimony by the parties involved. (Sec. 1418, Public Utilities Code).

A last query from Mr. Harris was: "If further action before your commission is required in the matter, what would your estimate of the time following the take-over of the properties which would elapse before a verdict in this matter could be expected?"

This elicited the following answer: "The time required, from the date of the new petitions by the parties to the date of the commission's decision fixing just compensation for any additions or betterments, is dependent on many factors which make it impractical at this time to give you a concrete answer. It will be necessary to prepare valuation studies for the additions and betterments, and for depreciation as well, and to hold further hearings to receive evidence and testimony of all parties."

Gen. Caufield Heads Community Chest Business Area Team

Brigadier General Frank J. Caufield (USA ret.) has organized a team of 29 citizens who will attempt to attain a goal of $8,370 from Carmel businesses for the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest.

This quota represents a 12 percent increase over what was raised last year, but is still shy of the $8,548 raised in 1962.

The across-the-Peninsula goal is $195,000. This also represents a 12 percent increase over the $174,000 raised last year. Accounting for much of the increase for 1966 is the inclusion of the Salvation Army as a Community Chest agency. An officer and his officerwife have been assigned to the Peninsula by the Salvation Army for the first time since 1966.

The Peninsula campaign is scheduled to open officially with a kick-off luncheon September 27 at the Mark Thomas Inn.

General Caufield is the trust representative for the Carmel branch of Bank of America. Members of his team are Eben Whittlesey, August Johnson, Getty Fairchild, Robert Durbrow, Tony Silveira, Clem Trapkus, Richard Duhring, Barnet Segal, Carl Bosholm, Russell Harris, Mel Campbell, Richard Wilsdon, Mark Raggett, Edward Neroda, C. W. Lunt Jr., Robert Work, Dale Junta, George Yates, Wendell Putt, Don Crosby, Hugh Hannon, Col. G. B. Baxter, Col. E. S. FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Noted for his books for children, Leo Politi has a new one aimed toward an adult audience and making a strong plea for the preservation of early landmarks in great cities. This book is called "BUNKER HILL LOS ANGELES . . REMINISCENCES OF BY-GONE DAYS." Mostly pictures, the book was done over a period of years and the changes in the artist's style are very apparent. These are pictures of the old houses on Bunker Hill Street and other old streets in Los Angeles, each picture with a short account of the people who lived in the house back in the old days. This is a charmer.

In direct contrast let us examine "MISSISSIPPI BLACK PAPER," a collection of 57 testimonies by persons, white and black, who have experienced police brutality in the state of Mississippi. Strongly reminiscent of Germany under Hitler, this book will make you sick, but read it anyway.

Speaking of trouble, and we were, look now at a paperbound book, "THE TROUBLE IN BER-KELEY," which was edited by Steven Warshaw. Full of photographs of the trouble, this is the story from beginning to end.

A new book on early American furniture is called "AMERICAN COUNTRY FURNITURE, 1780-1875." It was written by Ralph and Terry Kovel, and is well illustrated with photographs. There is much information about how to determine the age of old pieces and what characteristics to look for in good pieces. And arranged alphabetically at the back of the book is a great deal of miscellaneous information on the tools and gadgets of the time, such as hankwinders, foot warmers, and goffering irons. Ah me, the good old days of the goffering iron!

We have a copy ready for circulation of "NOT MAN APART", which we classify as being by Robinson Jeffers because the text is from his poetry. This is a book particularly important for Carmel because not only the poetry but much of the photography was done by residents of this area. It was published by the Sierra Club as part of their Exhibit Format Series. This series has been distinguished by excellence of bookmaking and beauty of illustration, and "Not Man Apart" is outstanding, We also have two copies of the Sierra Club pamphlet "Dams in Grand Canyon — a Necessary Evil?" which ties in with their earlier book "TIME AND THE RIVER FLOWING" by Francois Leydet. Please ask for the pamphlets at the desk where we shall keep them because they would get lost in the stack area. We are also keeping at the desk, and for the same reason, our copies of "MONTEREY'S ADOBE HERI-TAGE" by Mayo Hayes O'Donnell. This is a delightful small book which was published by the Monterey Savings and Loan Association, and which will fill a real need.

And so, with Fall around the corner, and school beginning again, how about a good book? And what better place to find it than your library?

On Saturday evening more than 250 members and friends of the Order of the Eastern Star gathered in the Monterey Masonic Temple to honor the lady pictured above, Mrs. Charles Pearson (Betty Jean), Deputy Grand Matron of the 45th District of the Grand Chapter, State of California, Order of Eastern Star, This district includes two chapters in Salinas and one each in King City, Carmel, Pacific Grove, and Mon-

Theme of the reception was "Betty, Our Queen." The lodge room was decorated in rich Fall colors. Driftwood bedecked with monarch butterflies, large ribbon pom-pom flowers and dry materials arranged in copper bowls reflected a beautiful autumn atmosphere. The 120 officers of the district, all visiting officers and all members participating in the floor work wore ribbon pom-pom corsages of the shades used in the decorations.

Mrs. Pearson was clad in a green crepe gown with beaded bodice and carried white orchids. She was escorted into the room by her husband, Dr. Charles Pearson, through an honor guard and taken to a simulated throne. As she reached the throne a golden crown was placed on her head by her son, Charles Pearson Jr., and a golden scepter was placed in her hand. She was then proclaimed "Queen of the Forty-fifth Dis-

Host and hostess for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Watson. Presiding worthy matron and worthy patron were Mrs. Paul Bickel and James Farlinger. Mrs. Howard Mountford and Mrs. Ralph Chambers were the marshals dressed alike in pale yellow gowns. Miss Barbara Jeanne Pearson, daughter of the honoree, placed the Bible upon the altar and Mrs. Hugh Mc Alexander, Mrs. Pearson's sister, acted as chaplain.

Both Mrs. Weisheimer and Mrs. Piper, past grand matrons, gave complimentary and impressive addresses and spoke of their esteem for the guest of honor.

She spoke of the joy of serving the district and of her pride of being a member of the Order of Eastern Star, especially Monterey Chapter. She thanked her worthy grand matron of 1957, Mrs. Weisheimer, for coming to the reception to honor her. She introduced members of her family and close friends who had come from out of town. Mrs. Pearson then presented the co-chairmen of the reception, Mrs. Howard Mountford and Mrs. James Moody. She expressed great appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. John Farr for being present and for the solos Mr. Farr had sung. He was accompanied by Mrs. James Farlinger, whose music added greatly to the reception.

The affair closed with a benediction and as Mr. Farr sang The Lord's Prayer the Bible was closed.

The Queen and her escort led the procession to the banquet room where delicious refreshments were served. The Fall colors again predominated in decorations and arrangements. The tables were lace covered and the appointments were of silver and crystal.

Prior to the reception Mrs. Pearson's associates of 1957 held a dinner in her honor and in honor of their Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Weisheimer.

CARMEL AUTHOR'S BOOK ON BESTSELLER LIST

"Games People Play" by Dr. Eric Berne, a psychiatrist who divides his practice between Carmel and San Francisco, has consistently hit the nation's non-fiction bestseller list in past weeks. The book attained this status with its first publication a year ago, then lack of copies caused sales to lapse until it was republished. Since then it again has been one of the most purchased books in the United States. Dr. Berne first came here when he was stationed at Fort Ord with the U.S. Army Medical Corps during World War II. After the war he established his permanent residence in Carmel. Dr. Berne is presently on a month's vacation which started in New York.

WATER DISTRICT

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone Considering the matter of acquisition of the local plant of California Water and Telephone Company, I wish to suggest that the interests of the people of Carmel, and of the Carmel Valley, may be somewhat different from those of the remainder of the Monterey Peninsula. I am moved to call attention to this by reason of the recent suggestion reported to have been made by Lt. Col. Robert H. Allan, of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, that a new dam be built on the Carmel River at the Klondike site, at an estimated cost of $11 million, and by suggestions from others that the Army Engineers be called in to help out in Carmel Valley. Lt. Col. Allen suggested that "the federal government could pay from 30 to 65 per cent of the total cost," should the water system be owned by the people. Thus, it seems that the proposed $17.5 million water bond issue would be only a beginning. The Los Padres and San Clemente dams, together with the transit lines leading therefrom, represent by far the major part of the investment of California Water and Telephone Company in its local water system. In San Marino, where its supply is pumped entirely from ground water, the quantity rate prices figure out about half of what they do here and yet California Water and Telephone Company operates its water system there as profitably as here.

While I get water from California Water and Telephone Co. for somewhat less than the average consumer (because of the quantities I use), my cost was 48 cents per 1,000 gallons during July and August of this year. I could have bought the same amounts in Pasadena (procured principally from the Colorado River) at 33.5 cents, or from California Water Service Company in Salinas (pumped from local wells) at 32.7

At the same time, Lt. Col. Allan suggests that the proposed Klondike dam would cause the San Clemente dam to become submerged and that would turn it into a liability, instead of an asset. Yet, after all, how long will any of these dams be necessary for water supply purposes? Right now might prove the very best time to cash in on them, in view of the rapid reduction that is being accomplished in the conversion of sea water into fresh water. We have an unlimited supply of the former right at our front door.

In the September 6, 1965 issue of U.S. News & World Report is an article showing how the cost of conversion of sea water into fresh water has been reduced from $4.00 to $1.00 per 1,000 gallons between 1952 and 1965, coupled with an estimated cost of 25 cents by 1970. What will it be in the years after that? That might not mean much in most areas with a transportation problem, but here we would have none.

If you will look around Southern California, you will see where the Army Engineers have built flood control dams galore, at no direct cost to the local people; regardless of whether the water services in those areas are conducted by public or private corporations. All of them are glorified with huge intake and outlet storm drains which blight the landscape worse than sunken freeways, but are not available to automotive trafic. Such dams are favorite peace-time projects for the Army Engineers. The Santa Fe and Whittier Narrows dams, on the Rio Hondo and the San Gabriel River, cost over $50 million. While they would protect the areas from extraordinary floods, they and their intake and outlet works look terrible and during the 15, or more, years since they were built they have never had any substantial amount of water impounded behind either of them, because there are four other impounding dams farther upstream. If we want to destroy the greenbelt in Carmel Valley, that is the quickest way to do it. Also, should such a dam fail, we could have a repetition of the Baldwin Hills disaster in southwest Los Angeles.

The way to preserve the greenbelt beauty of Carmel Valley is to leave it as it is; install numerous small check-dams among the hills adjacent to the valley, to slow down the freshets and to divert the water into the soil at the higher elevations where it belongs and will do the most good. (The United States Army Engineers are not in any way interested in such check-dams, but the Forestry Department probably could be induced to help out on them.) Then construct a thin, relatively inexpensive, concrete barrier across the mouth of the Carmel River, with adequate control gates. This barrier need not rise above the present ground surface, but would both prevent intrusion of sea water and conserve the large amount of fresh water now passing underground and lost into Car-

Such improvements would not change the area appearance in any way. Yet they would conserve an ample ground-water supply, which might well be developed by the Carmel Sanitation District to meet all water requirements of residents within the district, without any violation of the water rights of anyone. This water has never been put to practical use to any substantial extent and, under Article XIV, Sec. 3, of our California Constitution, it is expressly provided (in part), as follows:

"It is hereby declared that because of the conditions prevailing in this State the general welfare requires that the water resources of the State be put to beneficial use to the fullest extent of which they are capable, and that waste or unreasonable method of use of water be prevented, and that conservation of such waters is to be exercised with a view to the reasonable and beneficial use thereof in the interest of the people and for the public welfare."

Being neither a geologist, or hydrologist, by profession, I do not claim to have made any careful scientific study of this problem. But I have had a practical contact with the subject extending over the past 50 years, as an attorney largely engaged in water litigation for various water utilities; also, as an investor, director and officer of several privately owned water utilities; and as a co-founder of California Water Association, a state-wide organization of privately owned public water utilities, of which California Water and Telephone Co. is a member.

From my long contact with the subject, I know that almost all underground water is in motion. It is sometimes quite an undertaking to trace its course, but it usually meanders eventually toward the sea and it is quite reasonable to suppose that all the unused underflow in Carmel Valley ultimately discharges into Carmel Bay.

My observation and experience also tells me that a privately owned water utility can usually be operated more efficiently and MEMORIAL ARCH TO BE REPAIRED

Mayor Herbert Blanks announced after the last city council meeting that the World War I memorial at the intersection of Ocean Avenue and San Carlos Street will be repaired as soon as a craftsman capable of restoring damaged parts of the arch, designed by the late Charles Sumner Greene, can be discovered.

Matching the color of the hand hewn stones will also be required. Even the tool which was used to work the stone blocks is no longer made, the Mayor added. However, a similar implement will be created, or obtained, to restore what Mayor Blanks designated as "a work of art."

The designer of the arch, a Carmel resident, was one of the Greene Brothers famed for their influence on modern American architecture. The memorial was created by a stone mason, under the direction of Mr. Greene, during 1921 and 1922. Money for the project was provided by public subscription with Mr. Greene donating his time and talent.

more profitably than that of a public agency, but with more than half of its net earnings going into taxes, federal, state and local, (from all of which public agencies are exempt), it is extremely difficult but quite possible for an efficient private operator to compete. But the water consumers are the ones who actually pay the taxes on any privately owned water plant and business. Hence the drift toward tax exempt public service already to the extent of 80% of California water users.

While the PUC majority opinion set a valuation of $12,720,000 on the California Water and Telephone Co,'s local plant and system, the minority of the commissioners, in their opinion, said that the "District's proposal of $10,-800,000 is adequate." They then went on to imply that it was more than adequate, saying that 1959 was an exceptionally good year for the company and that: "the capitalized earnings for 1959 are close to the $9,631,000 estimated by the District's financial wit-

So, in my opinion, it would not be a smart thing, from the standpoint of the Carmel and Carmel Valley property owners and water consumers, to acquire a part ownership of this plant and system even on the $9,631,000 basis, when we have no real need for the major assets of California Water and Telephone Co. located in our area.

Yours very truly, Richard C. Goodspeed

The first production of the Fall-Winter season at the Studio Theatre and Restaurant, John Patrick's "The Hasty Heart", opens tomorrow evening at 8:30 p.m. and will be repeated on Saturday and Sunday at the same time, also the same three evenings following weekends. Dinner before the performance will be served during the run from 6:30-7:30 p.m.

The tender human comedy, written by a native of Carmel, will launch the eighth season of producers Betty Hackett and Roy-den Martin.

The play takes place in a British convalescent ward somewhere behind the front lines in the Assam-Burma front area during 1944. Lavne Littlepage, well known to Peninsula theatre goers, will be appearing for the first time at the Studio Theatre as the sensitive and understanding British nurse, Margaret. The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

A SUMMER IN WALES

Helen Prosser Weston of the Garrapata area of the Sur Coast returned recently from a six-week trip to Southern Wales where she visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Prosser. As a young girl of ten, Helen came to the United States from her native Wales with her parents. During the trip just concluded she had the happy experience of getting to know her relatives and family friends, whom she had not seen in many years. Also, there were trips to various parts within the British Isles, one of which was to Oxford, England, where she was the guest of Peggy and John Short of the Monterey Peninsula.

For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Prosser and Helen lived in Carmel and are remembered for their activity within the community and for their former ownership of the Artist's Palette (which they sold to Nancy Johnson) and the Carmel Woodworking shop (which they sold to Neil Weston). After leaving Carmel, a few years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Prosser lived in the Bahamas and now in Southern Wales. In the near future they plan to return to Carmel.

During the summer and school vacation, Mrs. Weston's four children, three of whom attend Carmel Middle School and one River School, stayed with their father Cole Weston.

FROM GERMANY TO BIG SUR Glen Oaks Restaurant in Big Sur is under new management. Entering into the new family business enterprise are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Shadwell and Mrs. Shadwell's mother, Mrs. Mary Zack. These new business people, and residents of Big Sur, formerly lived in Germany and Illinois and come to their new venture with previous experience in the restaurant business and with much enthusiasm.

Mr. Shadwell is a retired Army career man. It was during the period of service and life in Germany that the family became very fond of German food and have collected and tested countless ways of preparing it. German food will be a specialty at the Glen Oaks Restaurant, however other types of food will also be served.

The Shadwells' four children will, as time permits, assist with some of the chores about the new surroundings. Carlton is entering Monterey Peninsula College, Bryon, Carmel High, Belva, Carmel Middle School and Brett, Captain Cooper School, Big Sur.

A RIOT OF COLOR

It's that time of year! The Loma Vista Gardens in Big Sur are filled with an abundant and delightful display of tuberous begonias hanging within their partially shaded enclosure. Countless others are placed on the various levels of the planting areas. Passing along Highway One, one can see the brilliantly colored flowers, but to best enjoy and appreciate them, one should drive into the broad parking area, and walk up the few steps to the gardens. After the pleasant experience of looking up to the beautiful blossoms in the hanging baskets, and down upon the equally beautiful specimens below, the visitor should walk into the glass house to see the unbelievably large and colorful flowers, each arranged in attractive handmade redwood conBecause it is difficult to capture the beauty of the flowers in the time most visitors are there, color slides of the individual blossoms, and over-all garden are available.

Owners of Loma Vista Gardens, Alice and Steve Jaeger, charge no admission, but many visitors show their enjoyment and appreciation of their visit by making a donation at a place provided. Such donations go to some worthwhile project of the owner's choosing. Up until the time that the Community Hospital was built there was a sign at the garden house entrance which read:

"There is no charge to visit our gardens. Any money collected will be donated for a new hospital in Carmel under: 'Donated by tourists who have traveled Highway One.'"

SMITH FAMILY REUNION

It was time of joyous reunion for Mr. and Mrs. D. George Smith and family of Coast Road last weekend when all members of their family were together again at their beautifully situated ranch home overlooking the sea, the rugged coast and the hills at Rocky Creek.

Eldest daughter Margaret came home from Oakland where she is associated with the University of California in the department of finance. Eldest son Thomas W. Smith was there, too, in between his summertime job and entrance into his senior year at the University of California engineering school at Berkeley. For the past three summers, "Tom" has worked as a resident engineer with the United States Forest Service in El Dorado National Forest with headquarters at Placerville.

Also sharing in the reunion were John, a pre-law student at Monterey Peninsula College, and Mary, a pre-nursing student at MPC, and Patricia and Richard, senior and sophomore students at Carmel High School, and Joan a student at Carmel Middle School.

CAN WE OWN OUR OWN WATER SYSTEM WITHOUT INCREASING TAXES?

This is where the multi-billion dollar corporation is trying to confuse us.

Unlike most bond issues we vote upon, these Water District Bonds are revenue bonds, and, by State law, tax monies cannot be used to pay for them. That means they will be paid for entirely by the earnings of our own Water District.

What will happen is that we will reduce our water rates.

If we own our own water system (as over 80% of California people now do) we will not be paying Federal and State taxes. We will be able to borrow at lower interest rates. We will qualify for State and Federal funds for improvements, flood control and recreation development.

And we will not be paying a fat profit to a multi-billion dollar corporation every time we pay our water bill.

LET'S OWN OUR OWN WATER SYSTEM — Vote "YES" for Water Bonds, September 28th.

It was 86 years ago that phone numbers were born-with Dr. Moses Greeley Parker. During a measles epidemic in Lowell, Mass., Dr. Parker realized that if the town's four operators got sick phone service would virtually cease. He proposed using numbers in place of the 200 subscribers' names-which the regular operators had memorized-so that substitutes might quickly learn to operate the exchange. Keeping track of those 200 telephones,

Next time you call long distance, why not jot down the things you want to talk about first? This way. you can say more in less time.

When President Johnson signed the 1965 Excise Tax Reduction Bill he stated its purpose: to help America grow by creating lower prices, more sales, more production, more jobs. As part of this bill, the 10% Federal Excise Tax on phone service will be removed in four stages: Beginning January 1966 it will be cut by 7% then by 1% each year until it is eliminated in 1969. The President said the Excise Tax reduction will make its maximum contribution to the country's economic health only if the full amount is passed along to consumers. The reduction in Excise Tax will be reflected in your telephone bill in January, which I'm sure comes as good news to you.

The Monterey Peninsula Community Chest will begin its 1966 campaign September 27. An open luncheon at the Mark Thomas Inn will feature Colonel Allen Griffin as principal guest speaker. (Colonel Griffin is publisher of the Monterey Herald and one of the Community Chest founders for the Peninsula area.)

The goal for 1966 is $195,000, which represents a 12% increase over what was raised last year. All cities in the Monterey Peninsula, as well as military installations are included.

The board approved an instructional swimming program for 125 fifth and sixth grade Tularcitos School pupils this Fall at a cost of $300. The resignation of William G. Wakefield, Carmel High physical education instructor and director of recreation for the district until this position was abolished, was accepted as of October 1. He has purchased a business in San Jose and wished a release from his teaching contract. This would not be granted under normal circumstances, the board indicated, but in Mr. Wakefield's case his outstanding service to the district and unusual circumstances warranted his release, they

Superintendent Bair asked the board to think about requiring medical examinations for all children attending schools in the district and establishment of an "opportunities unlimited class" at Middle School. Any other class in the school would be available to the youngster in the special class thus allowing more concentration in any subject. The teacher of this class would act, primarily, in a counseling capacity and send pupils to classes where they would work best for indefinite periods.

Marjorie Bennett

Art News

Winners in the competitive Water Color Show at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History were announced at the show's preview on Tuesday night. Awards went to Peninsula artists as follows: First, Gerald Wasserman; second, Fred Klepich; third, Margaret W. Huddy.

George Post of San Francisco, nationally acclaimed watercoarist, judged the entries.

November 9 has been set by the directors of the Carmel Art Association as the date for judging paintings and sculpture by artists applying for active membership in the association.

Artists may secure application blanks and full information from the curator at the Carmel Art Association gallery on Dolores Street before that date.

Five years ago the Monterey Peninsula Chapter of the American Federation of Arts held its first Christmas Creations preview and sale. Since that time, this event has grown into one of the highlights of the Christmas season. Artists—professional and amateur — create ornaments and arrangements that make Christmas decorating a delight. And this year is no exception. Plans have been underway since early summer for the fifth AFA Christmas Creations party.

Mrs. Robert J. Hill of Pebble Beach is the general chairman for this year's event. At a morning coffee held last week at the home of Mrs. Jennison Heaton on Crespi Lane in Pebble Beach, she announced the names for her committee chairmen. Mrs. Heaton has been named honorary chairman; Mrs. William Arnold is in charge of acquisitions; Miss Barbara Burdick, publicity; Mrs. J. Arch Butts Jr., hostesses; Mrs. Dale Junta, telephone committee; Mrs. Barbara Tripp, decorations; and Mrs. J. Ritchie Dunn and Mrs. Arthur W. Barter Jr., will be in charge of tickets.

Proceeds from the sale of the dazzling creations go toward establishing a creative arts center for the Peninsula with a permanent museum and gallery for the enjoyment of visitors and residents. The AFA hopes to have hundreds of items at this year's sale.

A champagne preview will be held on December 7 from 6-8 p.m. at the Mark Thomas Inn. On December 8 the public will be invited to the sale from 10 a.m.-9 p.m. Anyone wishing to create something for the AFA's pre-Christmas event, may call the AFA headquarters (624-2918).

Mrs. Hill, the chairman, moved to the Peninsula a year ago from Wichita, Kansas, where she was active in the Wichita Museum of Art.

The Zantman Gallery regretfully announced that the one-man show by Robert Clark, scheduled for September, had to be postponed. The artist's egg temperas have sold in recent months as fast as he could conceive and execute them. In addition, the gigantic 45 by 75 feet painting he was commissioned to do for Forest Lawn, "The Resurrection," took longer than he anticipated to complete. In appreciation of this work, Robert Clark will be made a Fellow of the American Institute of Fine Arts this month.

New artists who have arranged to exhibit their work at the Zantman Gallery are Louise Marianetti, Darwin Musselman and Noel Dagget, also Charles Levier of France.

Paintings and designs by Rick Beck-Meyer will be shown at the Coast Gallery beside Highway One at Big Sur through October 7.

One hundred and forty examples of 19th and 20th century painting and sculpture, from the private collections of San Francisco Bax area residents, will be exhibited at the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park through October 17.

The twentieth annual San Juan Bautista Art Show will open on September 25 and continue through October 4 in the theatre of the Brass Lantern Restaurant under the sponsorship of the San Juan chamber of commerce. Judges of work entered in this show will be Nimfa Valvo and Gordon Woods of San Francisco and Al Parker of Carmel Valley.

On display throughout this month at the Dooley Gallery are French and Czechoslovakian etchings, some in color, from the collection of the late New York artist R. V. Smutney.

Beardsleys Write Book Telling About Carmel's Largest Family

The love story of Helen and Frank Beardsley which led, in 1961, to their marriage and the merging of the children of each into Carmel's largest family is being told in serial form in Goodhousekeeping magazine starting with the October issue.

On October 12, "Who Gets the Drumstick?" will be issued in book form by Random House.

Helen Beardsley's name will appear as the author of the book but she says her husband is equally responsible for the writing. When they were asked first to write about their family they worked with a ghost writer. This proved unsatisfactory and they dropped the project three and a half years ago.

However, publishers continued to press them. Finally, Frank and Helen persuaded Random House that the organization of the family "was not our story." Instead, they wanted to write about the love that brought them and the children together, also the emotional reactions of these youngsters to their parents' marriage and the babies who increased the family to 20 children.

"We insisted it was these reactions which made us tick." Helen Beardsley says.

Convinced, Random House told the Beardsleys to go ahead and offered editorial help if they undertook the writing themselves.

So, either in their house on Rio Road, or summers in Lake County, Frank and Helen Beardsley put their story together.

"Sometimes we would drop it for quite a while then take it up again," Mrs. Beardsley says. Prods from the publisher tended to spur the writing when it lagged. On their Lake County vacations it was "write one day, golf the next," according to Mrs. Beardsley. Finally, at the end of three years the work was done.

Now Mrs. Beardsley faces personal appearances and autograph parties. The first autograph party will be given by a Carmel bookstore which pleases her.

Her husband, in ten months, will complete a 30-year Navy career. For the past five years he has been assistant military personnel officer at the USNPGS.

There are still 17 children at home. Of those who are away, two, Michael and Charles, are in Viet Nam with the 3rd Marine Division. The third, Greg, is at the University of San Francisco.

Warrant Officer Frank Beardsley was a widower when he met Helen whose husband, a career Navy officer, had lost his life in an airplane crash. Both had large families and it is the reactions of the children to their meeting and the life which they have made subsequent to their marriage four years ago that "Who Gets the Drumstick?" tells.

That any misunderstanding should have arisen is to be regretted. The volunteer firemen devote hours of their time to protecting the citizens of Carmel. Channels of communication between them and the city council should not leave any opportunity for instances such as arose this week and last March when Robert E. Smith, former fire chief, re-

But what is most deplorable is that a dignified silence was shattered and caused unrest in the community. Carmel residents may be assured, however, that the volunteers are ready to answer every fire call and work with the new chief when he takes over the running of the fire department.

Supervisors Act Next On Humble Referendum

(Continued from Page One) this basis was possible. He advised that referendum action could be taken and the council then authorized him to conduct the circulation of referendum petitions.

Should the supervisors decide that a vote of the people on the oil refinery is not warranted, further possible legal action is to obtain a mandate in Monterey County Superior Court, Mr. Burleigh said this morning. The granting of the mandate for a referendum would be the responsibility of the judge of the court.

Interest in the referendum has been high on the Monterey Peninsula and the King City area of the Salinas Valley. Carmel city hall was kept open until 10 p.m. last night to register voters who wished to sign a petition. City Administrator Hugh Bayless reports that the registration response was amazing. A great many already registered voters also came to city hall to sign the referendum petition. Throughout this week volunteers have manned petition tables in Peninsula cities and in the Salinas Valley.

'The Firebugs' Fails To Hold Attentive Audience At Circle

This past weekend saw the initial performance of "The Firebugs" by the Swiss playwright, Max Frisch, at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre. This treatise, adapted from the original German by Mordecai Gorelik, lost this reviewer (in the translation perhaps).

The always competent Golden Bough Players are no less demeaned by this vehicle with its relentless sardonic theme, suggested by the title. Nevertheless, the grim undertone and attempts at wit were fruitlessly wasted on an attentive, patient audience who "bore" the tariff to watch experimental theatre at a price-too much to ask. The short house became shorter after a first act of exceeding length and myriad blackouts that found the audience too confused to respond with applause.

Production values were highly commendable, especially the intricate technical lighting and sound features that helped to motivate an otherwise dull Community Theatre project. Kudos are in order for those responsible technicians, William Lewis, Peter Stergios and Charles Richmond.

The cast assembled by Direct-

Jack's Peak area and turned in to the Monterey police.

Four other purse-snatchings have been reported recently, all in the area bounded by Tenth to Thirteenth between Camino Real and Monte Verde.

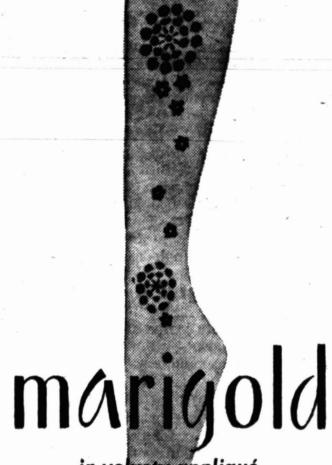

or Norman McPhee is equal to the "task." Carol McPhee performed the scenic design to smooth forbearance.

Vitality is hard to come by in this redundant complexity but April Edwards as Anna, the maid, is brightly appreciated. Allan Weinfield, Loel Shuler, John Miller, Peter Kuehn, Dick Woodring, Harry Fletcher, Sally Richmond, Irving Rogers, Phil Chrostowski, John Hicks, Nick Hovick and Glenn Kovacevich are all to be complimented for excellent concentration in this "effort."

The Pasadena Playhouse, with a paid repertory company on a Ford Foundation grant will subject Southern California audiences to this allegorical nonsense next month. It'll have to "snow in the box office" to get aesthetic approval of this type of theatrical behavior down there, too. If you enjoy ferreting out an underlying theme the curtain goes up at 8:30 p.m. weekends.
